

THE SANDWICH BOOK OF ORPHANS.

BY THOMAS DORMAN.

AMONG the different species of guardianship, enumerated by Blackstone, as known to our law, is the guardianship founded on the custom of particular cities and boroughs. As an introduction to the following copy of the Book of Orphants of Sandwich, it may be well to say a few words about the custom which was used in that ancient cinque port:—

Letters Patent of King Edward III. (confirming former Letters Patent of Edward I.) provide that the mayor and jurats, in the name of the King, shall appoint as guardians of the orphans within the port freemen who cannot have any interest in the inheritance or possessions of the orphans. These guardians were required to give security that they (being allowed all reasonable charges) will preserve the property, and will restore the balance of their account to the orphans when they come of age. If, however, no disinterested guardian can be found, then the mayor and jurats are to deliver the care and custody of the orphans to such of themselves as are in good circumstances and worthy of confidence, subject to the control of the mayor and jurats.

In obedience to the King's command the mayor and jurats established the following, among other regulations:—

As soon as it comes to their knowledge that any rents, lands, tenements, or moveables have fallen to a minor by descent, grant, or devise, they are to take possession of them, and enquire what is the annual produce of the real estate, the value of the personal estate, the number of children, and their ages. They are to put the children and their property in ward agreeably to the King's order, under their next of kin, to whom the inheritance cannot descend; provided the ancestor has made no specific appointment of trustees by will. The mayor and jurats are to take such security of the guardians that the children may be safe from injury and the town from blame. The guardians were not allowed to give their wards in marriage while under age without the consent of the mayor and jurats and the relatives. Indentures are to be drawn upon the occasion, one of which is to be sealed by the guardian and the sureties and deposited in the Common chest.

In pursuance of these ordinances, at the Common Assembly, held annually on the Thursday next after the choice of mayor, for the appointment of officers, three jurats (usually the three keepers of the Common chest) were appointed "Wardens of Orphans," and they were sworn to the King and commonalty that they would well and truly conserve and keep the state of orphans falling or happening within the town of Sandwich during the ensuing year; and to the wardens so appointed the custody of the orphans was committed.

This custom of electing wardens of orphans, and the ordinances, are set out more fully in Boys' History of Sandwich, from which the foregoing is extracted; and the custom was annually continued until the old Corporation itself merged into the new Corporation under the Municipal Corporations Act of William IV., but it is probable that the wardens had not performed any duties since 1655, as that is the latest date in the Book of Orphants, which commences in 1586. It consists of several quires of foolscap paper under a parchment cover, and is not nearly full.

I am not aware whether there is any earlier book in the Corporation records, but this book was probably taken out by Boys for the purpose of making extracts from it, and never returned, as it came into my hands with other papers, which Boys had made use of and retained in a similar manner, and has now been returned to the Corporation chest.

There is nothing very remarkable in the first account, but I must observe that the payment of £10 for the apprenticeship of the orphan appears a very heavy sum, considering the value of money at that date; and in later accounts £7, and even as low a sum as £2, appear to have been paid.

The most interesting account in the book is probably the next, that of Thomasine Wolters, Wouters, Oulters, or Ulters, extending as it does from the year 1588 to past 1594, and through several wardens.

She was apparently an heiress in a small way, with house property producing a rental of over £10 a year, and the items of payment give a considerable insight into the manner and the costs of the repairs of her houses, and the materials employed, and also with regard to the various articles of her dress.

Her board appears to have cost originally £2* a year, but in April 1592 she was sent to finish her education at a boarding-school at Canterbury, where the cost of board and teaching was £8 a year, and in 1594 she came to reside with the Warden, Mr. Will. Wood, for which he was to have £5 a year.

To prepare for the important event of going to live at Canterbury it was necessary she should have a new gown, for which two yards of violet broad cloth, two yards of baize, one yard of cotton, and divers other things were purchased, at a cost of £2 19s. 8d.; while the expense of making, including the stiffening for it, came to 6s. 4d. more. Linen for neckerchers and other necessaries was purchased and made up, at a cost of £1 1s. 3d.

Her journey to Canterbury from Sandwich by the wagon, twelve miles, appears to have cost 6d.

She seems to have had a little pocket money now and then; sometimes a shilling, sometimes sixpence; once will be found, "geven her to geve to a bryde 4d.," at another time 6d.; and at Easter she had one shilling to put in the Communion plate, rather a large offering, but it was probably her first Communion.

The service book and singing psalms cost 2s. 6d.

She did not apparently require much physic, as there is only twice letting of blood 6d. and 1s., and a medicine to expel the ague twice 1s.; but she seems to have suffered once from a very unpleasant complaint,—“Item for oyntment for the yche 3d.”

Her shoes cost apparently from 1s. to 18d. the pair, and mending shoes is a frequent, but not expensive item, but a Taffyta hat at 10s. seems rather costly; her hose she apparently knitted herself, as there is yarn bought for that purpose two or three times, and on one occasion the dyeing of them is mentioned. Once or twice hose were bought at 2s. 2d. a pair, one pair especially against Christmas. One item is 4d. to go to the play; and the whole winds up with the balance being handed to a man named Harker who had married the orphan.

Funerals do not appear to have been very expensive items in Sandwich at this period, as the cost of the burial of Angele's widow was only 4s., in addition to 2s. 8d. for laying her forth, and washing the clothes and other things after her death. The burying of a "yonge gerle" only cost 5s. From another account it appears that Benet Ingram's coffin cost 3s., and 1s. was paid for bread and beer at her burial; but Mrs. Cornish seems to have been waked right royally, as her coffin cost 6s., cakes and beer at her burial 13s., knell and burying 6s. 8d., for rosemary and sweetwater 6d., laying the corpse forth 2s., victuals for the helpers 4s., and, in addition, more for beer and cakes 4s., rosewater and herbs 1s., or a total of £1 17s. 2d. Perhaps in this case a certain Goodwife Ravenall may have taken an unfair advantage of the orphan's position, before the wardens were called upon to exercise their powers.

The account of the goods of Millians, or Mullens, gives some insight into the household furniture of a freeman of Sandwich, who appears to have possessed no other property, and states the value of the various articles at an auction in 1592.

Martin's account shews that two boys had a suit of clothes each which cost for both but £1 9s. 4d., a moderate sum compared with the gown of Thomasine Wolters, who, by the bye, had another gown in 1594, with whaleboned sleeves, at a total cost of £1 15s. 8d.; Martin's boys, however, had but a small estate.

Robert Wilds, who died at sea, apparently had the largest personal estate which came under the control of the wardens during the period covered by these accounts, and the receipts and payments afford many interesting details as to the mode of management and prices of different articles. I call attention to the cost, £3, of a journey to Yarmouth to collect a bill, and the very small sums paid for the schooling of these orphans.

The case of Cornish's orphans shews the mode of proceeding from beginning to end. Among the loose papers in the book is the petition for bringing the orphans under the control of the wardens, with notes made by the preparer of the petition as to the facts, and upon the accounts with Goodwife Ravenall. The whole winds up with a discharge given by the orphan and her husband for the balance.

The manuscript is for the most part very clearly written, and affords an interesting insight into the habits and customs of our forefathers in this old town.

* This word lefeco^e, which in the subsequent part of these accounts is called outroope, lyfeco^e, leefeco^e, finally terminating in loveco^e, signified an auction of household goods. Boys calls it lieuco^e, and says the word was pronounced lifcoop, and was still used in his time. I do not see any mention of it in the Customal, but in the Corporation records, at each annual assembly for the appointment of officers, there is the following entry:—"The loveco^e was let to farm to A.B. for the year ensuing he paying to the land Treasurer 2s. 6d. for every loveco^e." This annual entry ceased in 1782. At the period of these accounts the Clerk and Crier appear to have been entitled to a commission of 8d. in the pound.
