WAGES IN A.D. 1621, AND INNKEEPERS'
BILLS A.D. 1668.

DEAR MR. SCOTT ROBERTSON,

I send you the enclosed Regulation for Servants' Wages, made in 1621; in case you may think it of sufficient interest to print in Archæologia Cantiana. The mingling of Roman and Arabic numerals is singular.

The statute 5 Elizabeth, c. 4, required the justices at the Easter sessions to fix the rate of wages. It is entitled "An Act containing divers Orders for Artificers, Labourers, Servants of Husbandry, and Apprentices," and was explained by 1 James I., c. 6.

I also enclose transcripts of Innkeepers' Bills incurred in July, August, and September 1668.

Yours faithfully,

FRANCIS F. GIRAUD.
