AN ARCHIDIACONAL VISITATION OF 1502.

COMMUNICATED BY C. EVELEIGH WOODRUFF, M.A.

Six years ago (1928) a vast quantity of ancient documents relating to the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of Canterbury was transferred from the chamber over the great gate, leading to the precincts of the Cathedral, to the Chapter Library. An inventory of these records, compiled by the present writer, was printed in Arch. Cant., XLI, in which the statement was made that the most important section is that which comprises the Visitation-books, for the years 1499 to 1541. These books were in a very frail condition when brought into the library, having suffered much damage in former days, from damp. Indeed some of them could scarcely be handled without danger of further destruction. During the past two years, however, their leaves have been sized, the margins mended, and they have been bound in six volumes. The work, which was done in the library by a Canterbury bookbinder, requires much skill and patience, and, necessarily, is expensive, but was made possible by a liberal grant from the Council of the "Friends of the Cathedral".

As a sample of the information to be obtained from these books, I now offer to the members of our Society a transcript, or rather, a translation, for the original is in latin, of the Visitation-book for the year 1502. I have chosen this year because the proceedings happen to be recorded somewhat more fully than in other years, and the script is clearer. In 1502 Henry VII was King of England, Henry Dene, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Hugh Penthwyn, Archdeacon. Of Penthwyn little is known; except that he was a doctor of laws of Cambridge University, that he was collated to the Archdeaconry by Archbishop Morton in 1495, having been previously rector of Eynsford in Kent, and Barking in Essex, and that he died August 6th, 1504, and was buried in Lambeth Church.¹ Dr. Penthwyn did not conduct his Visitation in person but delegated the duty to his official, one Master Nicholas Willesford, whose name I have been unable to find in the Registers of the See.

The official visited the eleven rural deaneries in turn, beginning with the Deanery of Canterbury on the 9th of September, and ending at Elham on the 27th of the same month.

The total number of churches subject to the Jurisdiction of the Archdeacon was 219, and from these the clergy, beneficed and unbeneficed, the wardens and two or more parishioners were summoned.

In each deanery, however—with the exception of Sittingbourne—there were parishes which were exempt from the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon, and amenable only to that of the Archbishop. These exemptions probably had their origin in the fact that the churches were in the Archbishop's collation, and in some of the parishes there was an archiepiscopal manor or residence.<sup>2</sup>

In all there were no less than fifty-eight of these exempt churches in the diocese—their names will be found at the end of the proceedings in each deanery. It is worthy of notice that at this period the Rural Deans—or Deans of Christianity as they were then called—were elected at the Visitation—presumably by the beneficed clergy then present. A single instance only occurs in the year 1502, namely the election of the dean of Bridge; but the entry "N or M eligitur in decanum" is found frequently in the books of subsequent years.

It is also of interest to note what churches, long since derelict, were at this period in use.

Thus in the Deanery of Canterbury, St. Mary de Castro and St. Michael are represented, but no mention is made of the churches of St. Mary Queningate, St. Edmund and St. John, from which we may infer that already they had ceased to exist, or at any rate to be used.

In the Deanery of Lymne the Curates of Midley, Weston-hanger and Westhithe appear, on the other hand no one appeared for Blackmanstone, Eastbridge and Orgarswick, though the Church of Blackmanstone must have been in existence, since in 1507 the Rector was "presented" for not saying mass.

In Ospringe Deanery, Stone next Faversham is represented by Curate, Warden and one Parishioner. More than half of the churches in the Archdeacon's jurisdiction were appropriated to religious houses, and about three-fourths of them were served by stipendiary priests; nor was this state of things confined to the appropriated churches, many of the best endowed rectories being served in the same way.

The Chaplains mentioned in the returns are perhaps less numerous than one might expect. In thirty-one churches there were either one or two, at St. Clement's Sandwich three, at Faversham five, the total number being forty-nine.

The "Presentments" (in latin comperta et detecta) may be classified as follows:

Neglect to repair the fabric, furniture and vestments of the church, the fences of the churchyard, and the glebe house is reported from:

Bearsted Petham
Brabourne Rodmersham
Burmarsh Seasalter

Canterbury, Sevington (many defects)

St. Mary Bredman Stodmarsh Chillenden Swingfield

Hastingleigh Tenterden (a new vestry

Lymne required)
Minster in Thanet Willesborough
Otham Wootton

Neglect to contribute to church funds, or unlawfully retaining the same:

Chart Little Sandwich, St. Peter's

Lenham Sittingbourne Milton (Regis) Whitstable Wrangles about pews:

Bearsted

Hawkhurst

Boughton Monchelsea

Defamation of character, and sexual immorality:

Canterbury, St. George

St. John, Margate

Fordwich Hawkhurst Smarden Whitstable

St. Laurence, Thanet

Charges against the moral character of the clergy are very few. At Great Chart the Curate is accused of habitual intoxication, an Augustinian Friar of Canterbury is suspected of incontinency, and a Chantry Priest of Waltham is accused of defaming the parishioners and keeping a tavern in his chantry-house, but that is about all.

The words omnia bene often occur, but it is not easy to determine on what principle they were inserted since they are placed against the names of parishes where complaints were made of serious defects, e.g. see Sevington and Tenterden, and are omitted in others where no presentments were made.

In addition to the Comperta et detecta contained in the Visitation-book of 1502, others, written on loose scraps of paper, were found between its leaves; these, since they may not all belong to the above year have been placed in an Appendix.

Abbreviations used:

P. = Appropriator (proprietarius).

R. =Rector.

V. = Vicar.

Cur. = Curate.

Cap. = Chaplain (capellanus).

War. = Wardens.

Par. = Parishioners.

The use of square brackets denotes that what is placed within them is from other sources than the "Visitation" of 1502.

6. Tenterden. [Abbot and C. of St. Austin, Cant. P.]

Mr. (Peter) Marshall, V.

Sir Will. Cock, cap.

War. Will. Buckinden, Ric. Charles.

Par. Will. Beche, Will. Heyman.

The copes, vestments, books, and other goods of the church aforesaid, are in bad condition through lack of a good place to keep them in; wherefore the parishioners and wardens say that a vestry should be provided for the safe custody of the said ornaments, according to the ordinal, and that such vestry should be built and newly erected at the eastern end of the chancel of blessed Mary, which is annexed to the aforesaid church.

The roof of the chancel of St. Katherine, the Virgin, is very weak and requires to be renewed with shingles.

The doors of shops and stalls on the south side of the churchyard in which business is carried on, open on the said churchyard and cause inconvenience and loss to the said church and churchyard.

The pond on the west side of the churchyard, near the path leading from the church to Boroughstyle lies open and unfenced, so that pigs enter the churchyard daily, and graze there.

Omnia bene!

7. Sandeherst.

Omnia bene.

10. Rolvinden. [Master of Cobham Coll., P.]

Sir Tho. Denny, V.

War. Tho. Dowke, Joh. Assheminton.

Par. Ric. Fowghell, Will. Sybrande.

The roof of the chancel is not duly repaired with shingles, through the negligence of the rector.

Omnia bene.

11. Hawkherst. [Abbot and C. of Battle, P.]

Sir Rob. Sampole, Cur.

War. Joh. Mercer senr, Tho. Aford senr.

Par. Tho. Philpott, Nic. Pynde, Ric. Bennet, Rob. Badcok.

Will. Ele...? is reported (notatur) for having in an unseemly way, and contrary to good manners, dragged the wife of Rob. Tryer of Benynden, out of a seat in the church, and after doing so maliciously threw her to the ground. Ric. Lye of Hawkherst is accused of a similar assault on the wife of Will. Birchett.

Rob. Frenche is reported for ejecting at the time of vespers the wives of two honest men from the seats appropriated to them, with such violence that the said church might have suffered pollution.

Item quod Margareta Swytefer, Margeria Barnefeld, Juliana Whateman de Haukherst notantur super communi pronubacia.

Edmundus Staunden notatur quod est communis scandelizator vicinorum suorum.

Alicia de eadem notatur super fornicatione.

War. Sim. Clornewaleys (sic), Will. Sayer.

Par. Ric. Thomlyn, Sim. Norwood, Ric. Davy, Rob. Lecas. John Waller does not keep the sabbath. Alice, wife of Tho. Torney is suspected of adultery with Sir Rog. Toolis, chaplain of a certain chauntry called Dennys chauntery in Berham. [Perhaps a mistake for Denis's chantry in Ickham church.]

&lt;sup>1</sup> The feast of the Transfiguration (Aug. 6th) was instituted by Pope Calixtus III, as of universal obligation in 1457. The feast of the Visitation of the B.V.M. was not observed generally until 1431, when the Council of Basel ordered that the feast should be celebrated in all churches.

8. Sesalter. [Prior and C. of Ch. Ch. Cant., P.]

Sir Will. Stekebuk, V.

War. Joh. Marchant, Edm. Billett.

Par. Will. Gilnett.

Sir Will. Rede, Cur.

Sir Rob. Pynnell, Cap.

War. Will. Prowde.

Par. Will. Acourt, Joh. Prowde, Rob. Moryne.

Sir Rob. Penell, the chantry priest, does not keep his residence, but absents himself from the celebration of divine service on solemn days, and, against good custom, he has a key of the church door, which he ought not, because owing to his having this key, the treasure of our church is liable to be stolen, since on several occasions the door of the aforesaid church has been found open through his negligence. He is noted also as a common defamer of the parishioners, calling them heretics, bastards and harlots. Also the said Sir Robert keepeth a common tavern in his chantry house, also the chantry house is much out of repair.

The Vicar (unnamed) appeared.

Sir Tho. Fouche, Sir Will. Dally, Chaplains.

War. Will. Harlakinden, Will. Saunder.

Par. Joh. Oldefeld, Nich. Rust.

2. Wotton.

Sir Rob. Fisher, R.

War. Tho. Miller, Tho. Alen.

Par. Tho. Hambrooke.

The walls of the church are so dingy that the parishioners sitting in the nave can scarcely see the sacrament of the altar, because the church is so dark, the wardens are to whitewash the walls before the feast of St. John the Baptist next following, under pain of 10s.

The cross in the church requires repair, it must be put right before Palm Sunday, under pain of  $6s \, 8d$ .

3. Denton.

Sir Joh. Staunton, Cur.

War, Geo. Bushe.

Par. Nich. Fytell.

4. Acryse. [Prior and C. of St. Martin, Dover, P.]

Sir Joh. Mason, R.

War. Matt. Gibbon, Nich. Mershe.

5. Postelinge. [Abbot of St. Radegund, P.]

Sir Will. Kirkeby, Cur.

War. Ste. Browning, Ste. White.

The ceiling of the chancel requires repair, and the roof of the same is defective, through the fault of the Abbot of St. Radegund; it must be put right before the feast of All Saints, next following, under pain of 10s.

Also the wardens say that they made a similar presentment in the year 1500, whereupon the judge decreed that the fruits of the church should be sequestrated.

6. Stowting.

The Rector (unnamed) appeared.

[Robert Forebas was admitted 1491. Dene Reg., 170b.]

War. Ric. Amownt, Pet. Miller.

Par. Pet. Gibbe, Joh. Boyse.

7. Horton. [Prior of Horton, P.]

Sir Sim. Goserede, R.

Sir Will. Coole, Cur.

War. Ric. Sowle, Tho. Castell.

Par. Will. Moone.

8. Braborne. [Prior of Horton, P.]

Sir Joh. Person, V.

War. Jas. Apantre, Will. Burges.

Par. Tho. Amount, Joh. Bulfineh.

They lack the books of the new feasts<sup>1</sup> and the book of general sentences.<sup>2</sup> They are to provide the same before the feast of the Annunciation next following under pain of 13s 4d.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The General sentence was a denunciation pronounced by the clergy four times a year, especially upon those who infringed ecclesiastical privileges or robbed the church of her dues. Frere's Visitation Articles, Vol. II, p. 55 n.

9. Elmestede. The Prior of St. Gregory's, Cant., R.

Sir Joh. Abraham, V.

War. Gilb. Laurence, Joh. Fordrede.

Par. Hamo Maxstede, Mich. Inkpett.

10. Hastinglegh.

Sir Tho. Hooke, R.

War. Will. Cokke junr., Chris. Fordrede.

Par. Will. Amount.

They lack the books of the new feasts; the breviary (portiforium), is illegible (obscurum) in divers parts. The defects are to be remedied before the feast of the Annunciation of the B.V.M. next following, under pain of 10s.

Also the nave of the church requires re-shingling; it must be done before the feast of the nativity of the B.V.M. (Sept. 8) next following, under pain of 20s.

11. Bircholt. . . . (blank).

[Exempt churches: Lyminge, Saltwood, Hythe, Stanford, Paddlesworth.]
